

White Cliffs Public School

Newsletter

Monday 7th May 2012

Captains' Induction

The Captains Induction Ceremony is on this Friday at 12:00pm. The Books In Homes presentations will be made at the assembly also. A BBQ lunch will follow the assembly. Please bring a salad to share.

More Baby Congratulations

Congratulations to ex-student Brad Atkins and his wife Hayley on the birth of their daughter last month.

Learning via Skype

Morgan has started accessing speech therapy from an Adelaide therapist via Skype.

Stewart House Donations

Stewart House donation envelopes are due back on Friday 11th May.

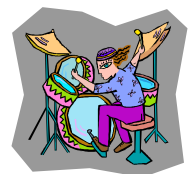

School Audit

Leona Markham will be at school tomorrow to conduct a school audit.

Music Festival

The annual White Cliffs Music Festival will be held on 18th/19th/20th May. A highlight this year for the students is having their Irish Whistle teacher, Craig Freeman, attend the Festival, conduct workshops and perform in the Saturday night concert. Ms Mitchell will also be attending and performing, as part of the Broken Hill Community Voices choir.

-Please see attached flyer.

Quote

“Mothers hold their children’s hands for a short while but their hearts forever.”

Happy Mothers Day

Have a good week

Julie